The Religious Test—Letter of the Rev.
Mr. McDonald, to Dr. Urban, of this City.

Perhaps the most disgraceful of all the whig maneuvers in the present canvass, is the attempt to enlist religious prejudices into the present canvass. They, indeed, evidently regarded this effort as a trump in the game. They knew they were in a hopeless minority in the United States, and if they succeeded at all, it must be by some simple maneuver to accomplish the delicate task.

It was the design of the original Scott men to run him on trust upon the slavery question—not a platform; and thereby get the abolition vote. In this they succeeded only partly.
The platform was ingeniously devised to get the public, and not approved by Scott, but succeeded to him.

This was a serious inconvenience, and has kept the Scottites in the free States explaining very industriously. The next card in the game was the scheme to catch the Catholic vote.

As soon as Pierce was nominated, the whigs commenced the attack upon the test, and at first boldly charged that Pierce was in favor of it—Thinking the people have short memories, the whigs pretend that Geo. M. Dallas committed the agitation of this subject. This is utterly false. We heard the charge made only the day after Pierce's nomination, and the morning previous to the speech of Dallas; the charge was made in a public journal in Philadelphia, which called for the reply made by Mr. Dallas. From that day to this the whig party have labored to establish this charge by falsehood and fraud.

The Boston Pilot calls it the biggest lie of the canvass. We don't know about that. The effort to prove Pierce unsound on the slavery question is a full match for it. Both attempts are in the face of notorious facts, in the face of public records. The attempt to prove Webster or Fillmore, a democrat, would not be more hopeless. There is not a man in the United States whose skirts are more clear of both these charges than General Pierce, both by word and deed.

As soon as Scott was nominated, the whigs began to defend him from the charge of being a Catholic. Nobody made any such charge—No democrat charged whether he was a Catholic or Protestant; but in this whig editors made an excuse for informing the world that Scott did not rob the churches in Mexico, and did drive him things toward the Catholics in the country. They claim great merit for Scott on this ground; but we can't appreciate it. We have always been ready to defend Scott against stealing or robbing any body in Mexico. We never suspected him of such a design; and we are half inclined to defend General Scott against the charge which Scott, the Seward and Greely candidate for the presidency, makes against him. The candidate says the General had a mind to pitch into the pictures and bring some of them home, and that he even intimated some purpose to the venerable Archbishop—He was on the point of doing this without consulting the President of the United States, or any body else.

We hold this a nefarious charge against General Scott. We don't believe a word of it. We think Scott, the candidate, has caught the gassing infirmity of his party, and has made a charge against General Scott that he can't sustain.

We don't believe a word of that other disgraceful story about General Scott listening to an overture involving his honor, and his good faith to his government. If such a proposal was ever made it was a Mexican trick to reach General Scott.
Just such an one as Santa Anna played off upon the vain and consequential old man, and according to Scott, the candidate, the whig Mexicans didn't miss their man. He might have succeeded, if he had only thought a little less of home. The dishonor and rascality of the whig business, the candidate says nothing about. He don't intimate that General Scott revolved at the proposition at all.

The candidate of Seward, Greely & Co., intimates that Mexico was in favor of annexation to this country, and that General Scott knew it, but he never informed his government at home of any such thing. He held a private consultation with himself, and decided the grave question himself, when it was none of his business; finally escaped a bribe himself, and came home to run for President of the United States.

This we escaped a disgraceful ending of the Mexican war, merely by a whim of Geo. Scott.
He didn't want to be mixed up with the Mexicans. What, if his mind had inclined the other way? A few years ago he was fired with indignation at European foreigners. He didn't want to be mixed up with them. He is changed now; he loves the rich brogue of the Irish, and the home accent of the German. Who knows what he may fall in love with the Mexicans; and his lucky fit didn't come on him whilst he was at the head of the army in Mexico.

But to this paper to catch the Irish and the Catholics; read the letter of Mr. McDonald, to Dr.
Urban, of this City, to refute the pretence that the letter to the Boston Post was a forgery. This was the fraudulent attempt to implicate General Pierce in the charge of intolerance towards the Catholics or any other religious society.

The charge of favoring a religious test, is a grave one against a public man in this country; and such a charge against Pierce, is one of the biggest lies of the canvass. This letter will extinguish it in this region, and damage is expected.

We don't charge Gen. Scott with bigotry, much less the candidate Scott. He belongs to all the churches promiscuously, and will continue to do so until after the election.

Dear Sir—Manchester, Oct. 14, 1852.

It appears to me rather strange that you should doubt the genuineness of my letter to the Boston Post, as its authenticity was guaranteed by the Boston Pilot, which you must have seen—I assure you that the letter you enclosed to me is a true copy of my Boston Post letter. I further assure you that in writing that letter, I was not influenced by a single motive, but I was frequently called to the aid of justice, and I was not obliged to give to my party, further than that the whigs should not be allowed to prevail themselves to be our disinterested friends—before, and after the Constitutional Convention.

I have never spoken to him, or solicited any favor from him or his party. I am a personally, in silence, the attacks made on him—namely, that he was no friend to the Catholic, that he did not exert himself to have removed from the State Constitution the Test—which is, that a Catholic cannot be a Governor, or his counsel, or a Legislator, which I was well aware of the contrary?

I believe, no man was ever so unjustly misrepresented. The fact is, Gen. Pierce is constitutionally incapable of bigotry, and a warmer or truer friend the Catholics have not in the Union.

You are at liberty to have the whole or a part of the above published. By so doing you will save me a large amount of trouble, for, from the South and West, numbers of letters are daily pouring in, informing the young, about the genuineness of my letters.

Disclaiming any predilection for Pierce, or his party.

I remain, dear sir, yours sincerely,
WM. McDONALD.
Catholic Pastor, Manchester and Concord, N. H.
A. URBAN, Esq.

P. S.—I might enclose, were it necessary, the published names of almost all those Irish and Nathaniel, Concord and Manchester, explaining how they were deceived in giving their names to Concey. You will see their card in the papers.

The Journal says the native Americans in Philadelphia are opposed to Scott, and will vote for Pierce, because they know "Scott to be opposed to their schemes." We do not know whether they will vote for Pierce or not, and presume we are as well as they. If they do, it is the editor of the Journal. If they do, however, the Journal and every one else knows that it is not to love their bear Pierce or the democratic party, but on account of their just disapproval of Scott's hypocritical course on the subject.

He had been for a series of years the leader of their party, and boasted of being the "father." As long as he expected it to minister to his ambition, he was the most ultra among them. In the course of time he found it a "stumbling block" in his way, and he became wondrous fond of foreigners, and gives no other reason than the perit one that they fought bravely in the Mexican war.

Is it any wonder that the natives should hold in utter contempt, the man who could so degrade himself? Still we have no idea that they will vote for Pierce. If they do, it will be only to give an emphatic expression of their abhorrence of the faithless "father" who deserted his needy offspring.

The New York Tribune gives the vote of Florida by counties. The majorities foot up thus:

For Governor.
Ward, (Dem.) 780
Broome, (Dem.) 784

For Congress.
Cabbell, (Whig.) 411
Heard, (Dem.) 525

This embraces all the counties in the State, and although not official, it leaves no doubt of a democratic victory.

The court of Bishops of the Episcopal Church, have decided by a vote of 8 to 6, that Bishop Doane shall not be brought to trial upon the charges against him.

The Journal is assured that the State Rights ticket will do something striking in the Southern States. Don't the editor know that Thompson, the State Rights candidate for President, is himself out in a letter for Pierce and King, and is of course no candidate for his own consent? The democratic State Rights ticket among the Southern States, is the candidate for Pierce. This movement for another ticket was made by State Rights whigs who won't vote for Scott. Don't catch democrats with any such chaff this day.

Webster's advice to a young friend is full of truth and meaning. Said he—"There is no Whig party left; it is broken up entirely. If you wish to be any body, be a democrat."

We invite the special attention of our readers to the following reflections of the New York Herald, in reference to the Presidential canvass. Besides the glowing picture it presents of the prospects of the democratic candidate, it is replete with wise suggestions, for the sober and patriotic consideration of our whig friends:

"THE COMING PRESIDENTIAL REVOLUTION.— AWFUL PROSPECT FOR GEN. SCOTT AND THE ABOLITIONISTS OF THE NORTH.—The return of the recent State elections held in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Indiana, received by telegraph during the last two days, are not full or official; but they indicate the facts sufficiently broad and expansive to the mind to perceive that, in the coming presidential election, in the Union, we are going to behold one of the most extraordinary revolutions against military availability and mere military bumbling that ever took place among the great people. There seems to be no doubt but that Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Indiana, in the recent contests, have gone for the democracy by large and avowed majorities.
There is no necessity to enter into details of this country and that country, this district of that district, in reference to these great results, for the facts before us are so plain, that it is a presumptuous system of the prodigious revolution in public sentiment with respect to military bumbling, which will be fully developed at the polls of this month.

"The causes of these recent results in the elections throughout those great States are both remote and immediate. The remote causes are the general feeling of disappointment which even the intelligent and conservative portion of the whigs have heretofore experienced, from having relied on military force for the suppression of the rebellion, recommendations for the highest office in the Union.
We allude to the failures of General Harrison and General Taylor in the discharge of their duties as Chief Magistrates of this country.

The more immediate cause of this change in popular sentiment with respect to military availability, and of the triumph of common sense, is the fact that under the name of democracy, or the sentiment of military glory, as manifested by the people of Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Indiana, may be found in the recent elections, a genuine and great people. There
